01 · THE DATASET

The dataset shows a broad, repeat-heavy customer base

The customer file is broad enough to compare life stages, and deep enough to show repeat behaviour.

- 3,900 purchases across 25 products, 4 categories, 50 locations, and 18 tracked attributes
- Average purchase: $59.76; average review rating: 3.75
- Customer ages span 18–70, enabling life-stage comparisons

02 · CATEGORY MIX

Clothing is the commercial center of gravity

Clothing leads both revenue and volume. Accessories are the strongest secondary category.

CATEGORY LEADERS

Clothing leads at $104K and 1,737 orders; accessories follow at $74K and 1,240 orders. Footwear and outerwear trail.

ACTION

Use the category mix to anchor campaigns, then cross-sell into adjacent categories.

03 · VALUE TRIGGERS

Discounts can trigger spend without creating dependence

Discount use is compatible with higher spend, but the signal points to targeted offers rather than blanket discounting.

Above average spend

839 customers used discounts while spending above the average purchase amount.

Product-specific signal

Hat, sneakers, coat, sweater, and pants show the highest discounted-purchase rates, led by hats at 50%.

Action

Test targeted offers by product and customer value instead of broad discounting.

04 · PRODUCT SIGNALS

Product preference is visible in both demand and trust

The safest discovery path pairs what sells with what customers already rate well.

VISIBLE DEMAND

Jewelry, blouse, sandals, jacket, and coat.

HIGHEST-RATED PRODUCTS

3.86 → 3.78

TRUST RANGE

Gloves 3.86, sandals 3.84, boots 3.82, hat 3.80, and skirt 3.78.

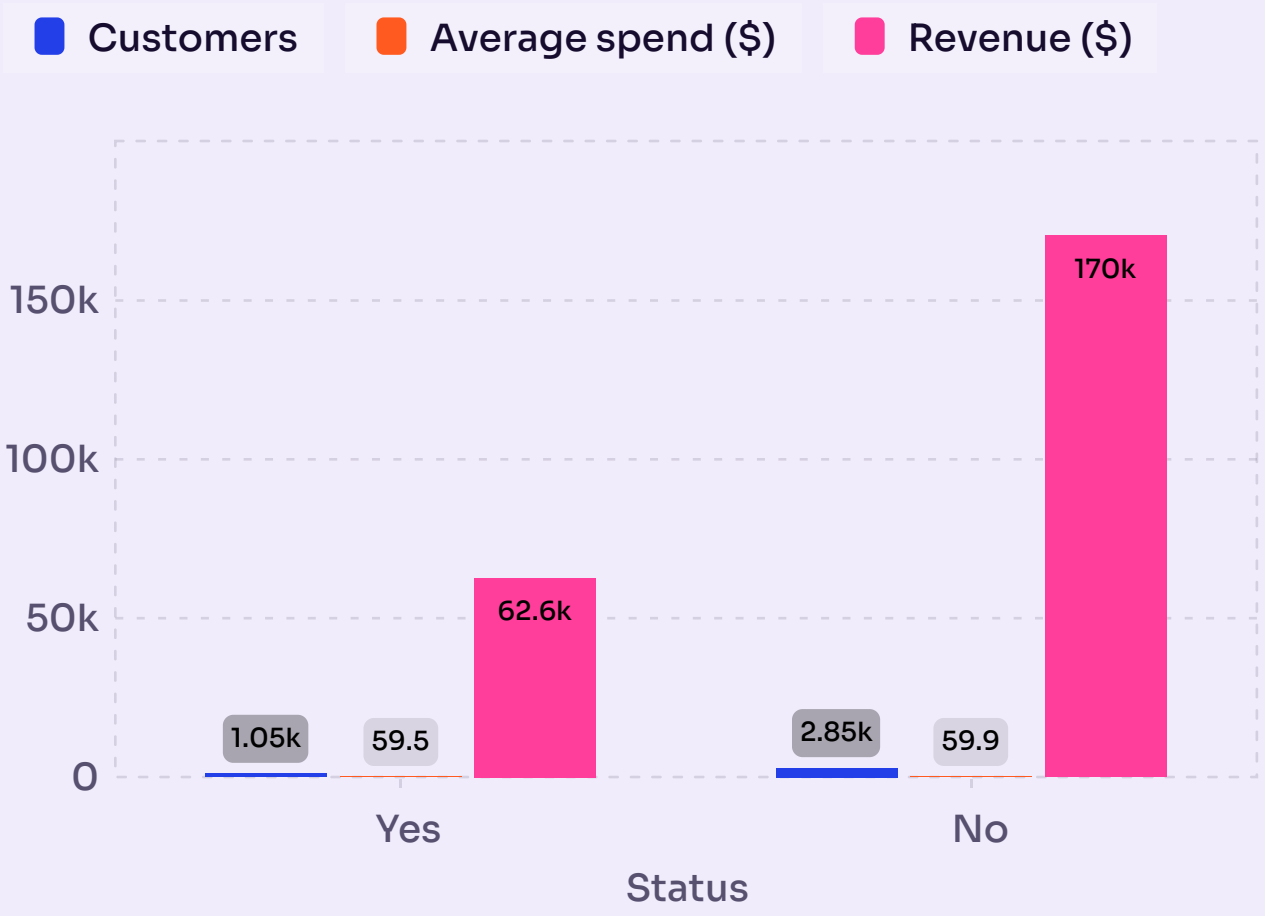

Action: pair best sellers with high-rated products to make discovery feel safer.

05 · SUBSCRIPTION

The subscription is not earning its place yet

Low penetration and nearly identical spend leave the benefit itself as the growth question.

27% / 73%

SUBSCRIBERS / NON-SUBSCRIBERS

Average spend is nearly identical: $59.49 for subscribers versus $59.87 for non-subscribers.

GROWTH QUESTION

06 · LOYALTY FUNNEL

Loyalty is already present — the funnel is the opportunity

The largest opportunity is converting existing repeat behaviour into deeper relationship value.

07 · LIFE STAGES

Young adults lead revenue, but every age group matters

LEAD SEGMENT

$62K

YOUNG ADULTS

Build a lead segment around young adults without treating older groups as low-value.

08 · EXPERIENCE SIGNALS

Experience signals are modest — convenience can be a differentiator

Delivery speed

Express-shipping purchases average $60.48 versus $58.46 for standard shipping.

Review prompts

Ratings average 3.75, leaving room to use post-purchase feedback as a growth lever.

Product confidence

Make delivery speed, review prompts, and product confidence part of the same journey.

09 · THE GROWTH SYSTEM

Turn observed behaviour into a sharper growth system

01 Use category leaders to drive discovery and cross-sell.

02 Replace blanket discounts with product- and segment-specific offers.

03 Design a subscription benefit that rewards repeat behaviour.

04 Build age-aware campaigns, led by young adults but inclusive of all groups.

05 Close the loop with faster delivery, better review capture, and repeat-buyer rewards.
